

Coplon Guilty Of Being Spy

May Face
$1200 Fine,
13-Year Term

Washington, June 30—(AP)—A federal jury today convicted Judith Coplon as a spy for Russia, tolling the word "guilty" on both counts of an espionage charge that could send her to prison for 13 years.

Judge Albert L. Reeves told newsmen he will sentence Miss Coplon tomorrow, shortly after 8 A.M. (CST).

The sentence will follow arguments on Miss Coplon's continued bail. Neither the judge nor federal attorneys indicated any desire to send Miss Coplon to prison before her second trial in New York next month.

Unflinching to the end, Miss Coplon, though nervous, made no outcry or other sign of emotion as the jury delivered its verdict after 26 hours and 58 minutes of deliberation.

Mother Reported Ill

Her 65-year-old mother, Mrs. Rebecca Coplon of Brooklyn, who has been in constant attendance since the beginning of the trial last April 25, was not present in the courtroom when the verdict was returned.

The mother, a widow, was reported ill in a downtown hotel.

Defense Counsel Archibald Palmer immediately announced he will carry the case to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and if necessary to the Supreme Court.

Palmer also asked Judge Reeves to postpone sentence until after Miss Coplon's second trial on espionage charges in New York—but government attorneys objected.

"Government Opposes Delay"

"The government opposes any delay in imposition of sentence," said Chief Prosecutor John M. Kelley, Jr. "The case in New York is mere accusation. We are now dealing with reality."

Kelley's words stung Palmer to a furious outburst.

"They've got their pound of flesh," the defense lawyer shouted bitterly. "Do they want the blood with it?"

Palmer told Judge Reeves that once sentence is pronounced, Miss Coplon's bond will be revoked and she will have to go to jail. He said she cannot raise a new bond.

But Judge Reeves, 75-year-old visiting jurist from Kansas City, Mo., said he intends to sentence Miss Coplon tomorrow.

Next Trial July 11

Miss Coplon, 28, a Barnard College girl who was graduated with top honors and then became a $4,479-a-year political analyst in the Justice Department in Washington, is under a $20,000 bond.

Her second trial is scheduled to start in New York on July 11, with her purported Russian sweetheart, Valentin A. Gubitchev, 32, a former United Nations engineer, as co-defendant. Gubitchev is now free under $100,000 bail posted by the Russian embassy.

Trio Arrested
For Swindling
Widow Of $9,000

Cambridge, Ill., June 30—(AP)—Three men accused swindling a farm widow of $9,000 through a termite exterminating claim were arrested and bound over to the grand jury today.

The three are George Rettig, 37, and Larry Yost, 22, both of Taber Grove, Ill., and Buck Vaughn, 35, of Pekin. They are charged with operating a confidence game on Mrs. Hazel Johnson, a widow who lives with her three children on a farm four miles from here.

Sheriff Ray Palmer gave this account:

A year ago the three men came to Mrs. Johnson's home and offered to apply a termite exterminating material for $3,000. She accepted and paid by check.

Last April 15 they called again and told her the exterminating material would blow up if not removed. It would take $6,000 to remove. Again she paid them with a check.

Then yesterday Vaughn, representing himself as a lawyer told her the men were crooks, and he would prosecute them for $3,000.

Mrs. Johnson became suspicious and notified the sheriff. The men were arrested this morning.

36,118,343 CATHOLICS

New York, June 30—(AP)—The Roman Catholic population of the U.S., Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands has reached 36,118,343, an increase of 642,646 over last year, the official Catholic directory for 1949 said today.

NEHRU TO VISIT U.S.

Ottawa, Ont., June 30—(AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India will visit the United States and Canada this fall, a government spokesman said today. The Ottawa visit is scheduled for October.

YOUNG LAWMAKER LEAVES SPRINGFIELD FOR TEACHING JOB

Springfield, Ill., June 30—(AP)—Rep. Charles (Jim) Simpson, blind and youngest member of the Illinois House, is quitting to take up teaching.

He has accepted a fellowship in the Harvard University graduate school. He will begin a year of study Sept. 1 before taking a teaching job.

Now 28 years old, he was first elected to the House in 1946. His present term continues through 1950. He graduated from the University of Illinois law college in 1946 with high marks.

Gasoline Tax Bill Beaten Nearly 4-1

Springfield, Ill., June 30—(AP)—The house today slaughtered the Illinois nickel gasoline tax bill.

Flooded by protests from motorists, house members stopped the bill down by a margin of nearly 4 to 1.

They had toyed with it like a cat with a mouse for four days.

As a result, the present three cents a gallon tax will remain unchanged for at least two more years.

The proposed two cent increase was to have brought in an extra $34,000,000 a year to improve state highways and local roads.

It was recommended by a legislative commission appointed by the former Republican governor, Dwight H. Green.

Democratic Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson pleaded for enactment of the increase. But he refused to use "the power of my office" to high pressure legislators.

The incomplete and unofficial roll call showed 75 against and 23 for the bill. At least 77 were needed to pass it.

Democratic leaders who stuck with the governor saw all Republicans line up solidly against the bill. They were deserted by dozens of Democrats.

Then they called off the passage roll call because the bill was "hopelessly defeated."

Gary Crusader
Sued For Slander
By Former Police

Gary, Ind., June 30—(AP)—Mrs. Ida K. Saks, a leader in Gary's petition rebellion against crime, was sued for slander today by four former members of the police vice squad.

The four policemen asked Lake county superior court to award them $40,000 damages, alleging Mrs. Saks publicly accused them of hindering the work of the vice squad.

The plaintiffs are Michael Finnerty, Matthew Tetak, Robert Bard and Joseph Zimmerman.

The vice squad underwent a complete shakeup this spring at the insistence of the women's citizens committee. The crusading housewives accused the police of lax law enforcement.

Marshall Plan
Nations Reach
Trade Agreements

Paris, Friday, July 1—(AP)—W. Averell Harriman said early today Marshall plan countries had reached "complete agreement" on everything in their efforts to stimulate mutual trade.

Harriman, roving U.S. ambassador for the Marshall plan, made the announcement as he left headquarters of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC).

Representatives of countries taking part in the recovery program met there all yesterday and last night.

An inner committee of eight worked all day on the problem of getting European trade to compete for Marshall plan dollars without making British risk losses of dollars or gold in the scramble. At one point, talks were limited to representatives of Britain, France, Belgium and the U.S.

After agreement had been reached in the smaller groups, the entire 19-member council was called into session. This meeting lasted only a short time and apparently ratified the agreement made by the inner committee.

"WAR BOOTY"

Vienna, Austria, June 30—(AP)—The Russians have confiscated Austrian goods value at $13,000,000, "War Booty" since the end of the war, official government figures showed today.

U. S. Sues To Dissolve DuPont Empire; Charges Monopolizing

Chicago, June 30—(AP)—The federal government today added the huge Du Pont industrial empire to a growing list of large companies it has charged with monopolizing the nation's business.

A civil suit filed in federal district court accused the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Co., Wilmington, Del., of U. S. Rubber relating to sales of monopolistic practices and asked that it be divorced from General Motors Corp. and the United States Rubber Company of New York.

Violate Sherman Act

Filed by the government's anti-trust division, the suit charges the three firms violated the Sherman act by making secret rebates and by dividing several fields of manufacturing among themselves to eliminate competition.

It asked that the Du Pont company and members of the Du Pont family be ordered to sell their controlling stock holdings in General Motors and the U. S. Rubber company.

In addition, the suit seeks cancellation of all existing contracts between Du Pont, General Motors and U. S. Rubber relating to sales of products, grants of licenses, agreements providing for the exchange of know-how.

No Market Effect

Filing of the suit had little effect on the market value of Du Pont stock. It closed today at 46, up a quarter from yesterday's close.

In Wilmington, Del., Crawford H. Greenwalt, president of the $1,585,000,000 concern, denied the government accusation that Du Pont's relationship with the other firms are "illegal and detrimental to the interests of the people."

"On the contrary," said Greenwalt, "these relationships have served the public interest in a conspicuous way; and in that firm belief we will defend our actions and our present position with the utmost vigor."

The suit named as defendants: E. I. Du Pont de Nemours, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Christiana Securities Co., Delaware Realty and Investment Corp., Pierre S. Du Pont, Lamont Du Pont, Irene Du Pont, and all members of the Du Pont family related by blood or marriage to Pierre, Lamont, or Irene who hold voting stock in either U. S. Rubber, Christiana Securities or Delaware Realty.

Truman Declares
Baruch 'Badly
Misinformed'

Washington, June 30—(AP)—President Truman said today that Bernard M. Baruch was badly misinformed in stating the government had no standby mobilization plan for use in event of war.

He told a news conference that he had never rejected such a plan, as contended by the elder statesman, because none had been received from the National Security Resources board.

Mr. Truman said his press secretary, Charles G. Ross, amply answered the Baruch charges yesterday and he refused to be drawn out further on them.

Ross was the then unidentified White House aide who told newsmen yesterday that Baruch was badly misinformed. He added that the resources board, now under acting chairman John R. Steelman, a presidential assistant, is keeping mobilization plans continuously up to date.

The secretary said further that since no over-all blueprint has been made public or shown to Baruch does not mean that nothing has been done.

Lewis Orders
3-Day Work Week
For His Miners

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 30—(AP)—John L. Lewis today ordered his soft coal miners to work only three days a week temporarily and the operators promptly called the action "illegal."

The United Mine Workers' president got around his traditional "no contract, no work" policy by taking it upon himself to order the short work week which the operators had rejected.

Covers 400,000 Men

The contracts covering 400,000 miners expire at midnight.

All union mines east of the Mississippi are included in the Lewis order to work only Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday each week.

However, the work days will be Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week because the miners are on a 10-day vacation which ends after Monday.

Lewis gave no reason for excluding the far western mines, which produce about 20,000,000 tons annually.

May Violate Law

George H. Love of Pittsburgh, head of the north-west operators with whom Lewis has been negotiating here, termed the three-day week illegal. The operators fear it violates the Anti-Trust laws.

Love told a news conference that Lewis' order "disregards the economic needs of the people, the welfare of his union members, and their families, and his contract with the operators."

He said he is not certain the operators would or could take any court action.

The operator spokesman said the mine owners would keep their pits open for any who want to work on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Catholic Chaplain
Named To State
Training School

Chicago, June 30—(AP)—A full time Catholic chaplain was named today for the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles under the state's program of religious guidance in its institutions.

He is the Rev. James T. Sees of St. Philip's high school, Chicago, and a former principal at Cathedral high school in Springfield, Ill. He was appointed by Bishop John J. Boylan.

Frédéric K. Hoehler, state welfare department director, said a "chaplain program" for Protestant ministers is now being conducted at state institutions.

He said four ministers are studying at St. Charles, eight at the Elgin State Hospital and seven at the Menard State Hospital.

Services at St. Charles are conducted by Catholic, Protestant and Jewish clergymen.

LEGISLATURE MOVES TO STOP FUTURE WORK-JAM

Springfield, Ill., June 30—(AP)—The work-jammed Illinois House today took a step that may help it keep up with the speedier senate in future legislative sessions.

The House passed and sent to the governor a bill appropriating $38,000 for installation of automatic voting devices in its chamber. The vote was 163 to 21.

The ponderous house, with 153 members, usually falls behind the senate late in the session. A few days ago when the trim senate calendar listed a handful of bills, the House worksheet showed more than 450—many of which since have died without reaching a vote. The senate has only 51 seats.

Make Withdrawal
Of U.S. Forces
From Korea

Washington, June 30—(AP)—The withdrawal of United States army forces from Korea, in accord with a United Nations resolution, was announced tonight.

A military advisory group remains in Korea. It is headed by Brig. Gen. William L. Roberts.

At peak strength, the army had about 50,000 in its occupation force in southern Korea. This force was confronted by a Russian army force the strength of which was estimated from 100,000 to 150,000.

The withdrawal of U. S. troops was in line with a U. N. resolution of last Dec. 12 which recommended that the occupying powers—the U. S. and Russia—withdraw their forces "as early as practicable."

Russia claimed to have pulled out all Red army troops by the end of last year, but has refused to permit the United Nations commission on the scene to enter the Soviet occupation zone in north Korea to verify this.

New York
Will Stand P
Jailed Swindler

Chicago, June 30—(AP)—Stone walls and iron bars proved no amulet today against the overpowering charm that little Sigmund Engel flashes upon women at the drop of a check-book.

After a brief jailhouse meeting with the 73-year-old swindler, Mrs. Pauline Langton, 39, a New York divorcee, stood smiling, head-high, chin-up, determined to stand by her "Marc Antony" to the very end as any good "Cleopatra" would.

"No one is going to push my Sam around," she announced. "I'm going to stay here and stand right by him."

Sam is Sigmund. He also is Aaron Langton, 39, a New York divorcee, stood smiling, head-high, chin-up, determined to stand by her "Marc Antony" to the very end as any good "Cleopatra" would.

Lewis gave no reason for excluding the far western mines, which produce about 20,000,000 tons annually.

May Violate Law

George H. Love of Pittsburgh, head of the north-west operators with whom Lewis has been negotiating here, termed the three-day week illegal. The operators fear it violates the Anti-Trust laws.

Atomic Workers Without Contract

Oak Ridge, Tenn., June 30—(AP)—Negotiations broke down tonight less than two hours before a labor contract for 800 APL workers in an atomic plant was to expire at midnight.

Federal Conciliator Clyde M. Mills of Washington said union and company officials adjourned at 10:15 p.m. (EST), without reaching any agreement.

The AFL Atomic Trades and Labor Council had been bargaining for two months with Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp. for a new contract for employees of Oak Ridge national laboratory.

Lords Powerless To Prevent Labor Regime's Program

London, June 30—(AP)—Britain's lords voted last night to stall government efforts to nationalize the iron and steel industry, but their action had little power to stop the labor regime from going ahead with its program.

The lords voted 99 to 22 to put off the date for taking over industry from May 1, 1950 to Oct. 1, 1950.

A general election must be held before August, 1950. The conservatives, who are publicly pledged to kill the bill, then would have a chance at taking power.

There is little if anything the House of Lords can do to stop the labor government's plans to take over the iron and steel industry by May 1, 1950.

The lords' powers to hold up passage of bills for two years will be reduced to one by December when the labor-dominated commons passes for the third time a bill to trim the peers' powers and makes it law. Commons already has passed it on two readings.

Dulles Contradicts
Hiss As Defense
Approaches End

New York, June 30—(AP)—John Foster Dulles testified today that he wanted Alger Hiss to resign as president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace after communist charges against Hiss were aired last summer.

The testimony of Dulles contradicted Hiss' own story earlier this week.

Dulles, board chairman of the endowment, took the witness stand after Hiss' defense on perjury charges ended with final vain effort to question the mental background of his chief accuser, Whitaker Chambers.

Had Acknowledged Talk

Last Tuesday Hiss acknowledged talking to Dulles during a congressional inquiry into Hiss' alleged communist leanings.

"And did he (Dulles) ask you out of consideration for the endowment to voluntarily resign as president?" Hiss was asked Tuesday. He replied: "He did not."

Dulles, as a government rebuttal witness, said today that last August he asked Hiss to resign the $20,000 a year job to "relieve the endowment of any embarrassment."

The witness said Hiss agreed and suggested offering his resignation in September.

Dulles said he agreed with Hiss that he should not resign while under fire from the House un-American activities committee.

Hiss' resignation went before the endowment board in December. Dulles testified. Hiss finally quit the post early this year.

Dulles also is a U. S. delegate to the United Nations and a republican foreign policy expert.

Earlier, the defense wound up its legal fight in Hiss' behalf by calling Dr. Carl Binger, a psychiatrist, to the stand.

However, Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman refused to let Dr. Binger offer an opinion on Chambers' mental condition.

FHA Head Pledges
Haste On Public
Housing Features

Washington, June 30—(AP)—Federal Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley promised today a "rapid start" on the public housing features of the administration's housing bill.

The bill has passed both houses and is awaiting conference committee agreement. Backers predicted it would go to the White House next week.

Foley said a "significant number" of low-rent, federally-subsidized units can be placed under construction in the next 12 months.

The entirely new program of "slum clearance," also provided in the bill, will take more time, he said, because it will entail extensive local planning, organization, and possibly local or state legislation.

State School Grants Slashed By Senate

Pass Taft Labor Bill;
Truman Promises Fight

Washington, June 30—(AP)—The Senate passed the Taft labor bill today by a 51-42 vote and wrecked for 1949 President Truman's crusade to repeal the Taft-Hartley act.

A short time later, Mr. Truman told reporters: "The fight is going to continue as hard as I can make it."

Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) won a convincing senate victory for his program to preserve the "essential" features of the present law while making 28 changes in it.

But the chances are Taft's new program will not become law.

It is more likely that the two year old Taft-Hartley law will stick around, unchanged, for at least another year or two.

After a whirlwind series of votes ended the four-week senate labor debate, the bill was sent to the House.

There it faced an uncertain career. It may never get any farther than the House labor committee.

And if congress finally sends such a bill to the White House, the overwhelming opinion of Truman supporters and labor leaders is that the President will veto it.

So today's action has transferred the long Taft-Hartley struggle from the floor of the senate to the congressional campaigns of 1950. Taft himself is one of the senators who must run for re-election at that time.

Folklore Experts
In Disagreement
Over Definition

Muncie, Ind., June 30—(AP)—A group of folklore experts pointed fingers and pounded tables today in disagreement over the right definition for their subject matter.

They were delegates to the first national conference on American folklore for children, being held at Ball State Teachers college.

One school of thought held that real folk tales and songs are only the record of what is actually told and sung by the people. The other contended that lore must be transformed for the reader by the imagination of a master story teller.

"We can't get at the stories of the folk through what is produced by my friend here," said Dr. Alfred Shoemaker of Franklin and Marshall college, pointing at Dr. Moritz Jagendorf, producer of 20 books on folk tales. "He goes to his beautiful study in New York City and by the time he's done we can't use it as folklore any more. People had better shut up until they know the tale as it's told."

The 24th week of the trial was concluded today with adjournment for the Fourth of July week end.

The prosecutor began by asking Green, "Have you ever lied under oath?"

"I do not recall," the Chicagoan replied.

The witness said he had worked as a substitute carrier in the Chicago postoffice in 1925 and 1926 but had been asked to resign because his political views became known.

A few months later he said he applied for another postoffice job. Under McGohey's prodding, he admitted these statements in the application were untrue:

That his name was George Gilbert. That he had attended a high school for four years.

That he had worked as a clerk with S. J. Hammersmark at 19 South Lincoln, Chicago, from February, 1924, to September, 1927, at a pay of $27 a week.

That he never had been arrested. That he never had resigned any position under compulsion.

That he never had been employed by any branch of the U. S. government.

That he had no relatives in government service.

YOU CAN'T CHEAT AN HONEST MAN

Throughout the ages swindlers have claimed "You can't cheat an honest man." They emphasize the prospect must have larceny in his heart before he can be turned into a sucker.

The adage has been repeated so often that it's accepted as fact, pretty much like two and two makes four.

Maybe it isn't so after all. One swindler asserts an honest man can be cheated. And is every day. True, the swindler isn't such a big shot in his profession. "Marrying swindlers" are regarded by their superiors as a most mediocre lot, scarcely worthy of the distinguishing title.

He's Sigmund Engel, alias Paul Marshall, alias Carl Laemmle Jr., alias Eugene Gordon, alias etc. who is currently taking a vacation from his work by visiting the Chicago jail. He says he will remain there only a short time and will return soon to his trade, which is divorcing women from their bank accounts.

Engel expressed surprise and some displeasure when police said they regarded him a swindler. After all he argued, he merely asked the women for their money and they gave it to him. Scarcely a crime.

He told reporters that taking money surely isn't against the law. "The politicians do it every day," he said.

The Associated Press report on Engel's methods of loosening up scented purses goes something like this: Be courteous, take them to the best places of entertainment, be neat, send flowers, compliment their dress, kiss them on the neck and ears.

A bunch of irate women from coast to coast said he did all those things, plus the mention of millions and millions of dollars and "what color shall your new yacht be, darling?" Within a few days they began spending mental millions and regarded their $5-10,000 as mere chicken-feed, something to hand over to the boy friend when he happens to be a little short and not a bank open.

This kind of talk convinces most everybody that the gals had plenty of larceny in their hearts. Hence, the old saying is still true.

But there's his second philosophical observation "The politicians do it every day."

A lot of people still think you can get something for nothing, via statute. There aren't as many as there were a few years ago when Franklin Delano Roosevelt cultivated a giant crop. But there's still plenty of them. They group together and crusade for something, something that's "vital." Usually it's something that will "save the country" uncalculated sums of money but it so happens that a good chunk of currency is needed to start things rolling.

Politicians call these combinations "pressure groups." Politicians often "yield" to pressure groups. They generally "yield" to those proposals with the best patronage prospects. Patronage and inefficiency and waste and votes and a great zeal for minding somebody else's business are the natural fruition of the whole business. It's a swindle.

Going back to the first statement, the promoters of the deal and the saps, lettered or unlettered, who followed them, deserve to be swindled. They asked for it, under the something for nothing delusion.

But everybody's taxed to support government projects, even those who opposed the proposition all along the way. The honest man, just because he's honest, is forced to pay more than his share.

It appears that the old saying is wrong: An honest man can be cheated. He's being swindled every day.

Reburial Rites For Cpl. Brown Set For Sunday

The remains of Cpl. William O. Brown, who was killed in action in Italy on Feb. 23, 1945, will arrive here at 5:10 p. m. today and will be taken to the Williamson Funeral Home.

Services will be held at the funeral home at 3:30 p. m. Sunday. Burial will be in Jacksonville East cemetery, where military rites will be conducted by the veterans organizations.

Cpl. Brown was born in Pocahontas, Ark., on Dec. 3, 1925, the son of Walter and Pearl Mahoney Brown. Prior to his entering service, he attended the Jacksonville schools and resided at 521 Sherman street.

He enlisted in the army on Feb. 8, 1944, at Chicago. After being sent overseas, he was assigned to the mountain troops of the infantry division.

Cpl. Brown had never married. Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Robert Brown of Springfield; a step-sister, Mrs. Frances Hoffman of Mechanicsburg, and two step-brothers, Eugene Mahoney of this city and Gerald Mahoney, stationed with the army at Fort Lewis, Washington.

The family will meet friends at the funeral home Saturday evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

Fire Burns Window Of Pearson Home

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a window, its shade and ceiling, of the Cecil D. Pearson residence, 684 Routt street, at 12:25 p. m. Thursday.

The blaze was under control by the time the fire department got there, due to the efforts of William P. Wallbaum, a neighbor, who lives at 898 Routt street.

ADVERTISE—IT PAYS

Boyle's Column

It's Great To Live In New York City!

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Oh, I tell you New York is a wonderful town!

It must be fine or there wouldn't be so many people crowded here together to enjoy it.

It's really a terrible place to visit or die in, but a grand town to live in.

For here the poor man has courage, and fights for his rights. He's as good as a millionaire any day, and he'll stay up all night to tell you why. Yes, rich or poor, you're just another number here, and sometimes it's pleasant to wonder whether you're 8,675,341 or maybe 1,435,768. Who cares?

You Can't Be Top Dog There is one thing to be: You can never be Mr. Number One. Because it is impossible to be so important on this $24 island. You have to belong to it—it can never belong to you. This is a man's city, and it's cut for size. It has outgrown everybody who ever lived in it—and it's still growing.

And the people who live in it are growing, too. The fat-voiced tourists come here and look aound and shake their heads and leave again, saying, "after all, New York City isn't America."

But New York City is America, and there is no town more American because here people are really working toward the kind of democracy the rest of the country reads about in his school civi books.

Few Are Really Cities There are only a few cities in the world that are really cities—London for courage; Paris for loveliness; Calcutta for misery; Shanghai for sin; Rome for healing and hurt; Athens for blue skies; Cairo for gold and intrigue; Naples for a merry heart and a dirty face; Berlin, the tomb vomit and anvil of war; Moscow for mockery of human rights; and Washington, where every man who has been elected twice can hope for a marble monument.

And, of course, there are smaller cities with which a breadth of mind—say Philadelphia, say St. Louis, say Baltimore, say New Orleans, say San Francisco, the city with the singing name, or Boston, the only place I know where nobody hollers against $2 bills. They are all old cities, each marked by an intique bigotry or prejudice of its own and moved by an individual caprice. freedom, too, as all old cities are.

Almost But Not Quite What you want together and you'll almost have New York—but not quite.

For there is nothing as tremendous as this tremendous village, America's long dream pushed into a few square miles of struggle and grope, where people move like moles underground and hope in terms of towers.

New York is opportunity. They put the statue of liberty in the right place, and more and more the old girl feels she belongs here. She still holds her lamp before the golden door, and the door is New York City, where all who enter find home, and welcome—and the equal chance that all men ask.

Willie N. Dillow, Retired Farmer, Dies Wednesday

Chandlerville—Willie Nation Dillow, 78 year old retired farmer, died at 4:45 p. m., Wednesday at St. John's hospital in Springfield. He had been a patient there for nearly a month.

Mr. Dillow lived west of Chandlerville for over 60 years. He was an active farmer until four years ago.

He was born in Sullivan county, Tenn., on Nov. 5, 1870, a son of Henry and Lucinda Peoples Dillow. Surviving are his wife, Anna, one daughter, Mrs. Fred Haldeman of Wood River, Neb.; one sister, Mrs. Mae Little of Detroit, Mich.; two brothers, Thomas R. Dillow of Portland, Oregon and George Dillow of Seattle.

The body is at the Lintner and Sons Funeral Home in Chandlerville. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Animals Spread Undulant Fever; Hard To Diagnose

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Written for NEA Service
Brucellosis, or undulant fever, is an important disease in human beings. About 4000 cases are reported in the United States every year. There are undoubtedly many more not reported because the chronic form of the disease is exceedingly difficult to diagnose and even many acute cases may not be recognized.

In a typical acute attack there is fever, a chilly feeling, loss of weight, excessive sweating, headaches and pains in the muscles. At times a slight rash on the skin is observed. The fever tends to rise and fall in a wavelike manner, which gives the disease its common name of undulant fever.

Symptoms of the disease are not always typical, however, and therefore many cases slip by without being recognized. In the chronic, long-lasting types diagnosis may be particularly difficult.

Infects Animals

Several animals can be infected with brucellosis, especially hogs, cattle, sheep and goats. Until recently it was thought that almost all human infections came from drinking the milk or eating meat from infected animals. Although infections do arise in this way, there are many cases which have started from direct contact with the meat of slaughtered animals.

Skin tests are helpful in tracking down the disease in some cases; a blood test is helpful in others. A completely reliable test has not yet been found.

Avoidance of brucellosis is most important. Drinking only pasteurized milk would do away with the danger of acquiring the disease from milk. Elimination of the disease in dairy and meat animals is also important. Campaigns against animal brucellosis are now being carried out in many parts of the country.

Treatment has not been too successful. Recently promising results have been reported with the use of streptomycin and a sulfa drug in combination.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

QUESTION: Do sclerosis of the mastoid cells and chronic otitis media mean the same thing?
ANSWER: They do not mean exactly the same thing but they are very likely both the results of the same chronic infection involving the deeper portions of the ear and the mastoid processes lying back of it.

ROMANCE NIPPED—Chicago's Brookfield Zoo officials decided a little rhino would be a nice addition. So they sent Kashi, a 3800-pound male, into the cage of Kamala, his bride-to-be, while she was taking a bath. After a little affectionate nuzzling, Kashi climbed into the pool with his intended. There she drew the line and bit the mighty Kashi on the neck. That did it. Kashi lunged at her, she fled, but not before getting the nip in the back pictured above.

Miss Minnie Meek, Keith Parsell Wed At Jerseyville

Jerseyville—The First Presbyterian church of Jerseyville was the scene of a pretty wedding Sunday when Miss Minnie Marie Meek of Carrollton became the bride of Keith Parsell of Jerseyville. The couple exchanged vows in a double-ring ceremony performed by the pastor, the Rev. David B. Maxton.

Mrs. Harold Parsell of Jerseyville was matron of honor, Miss Marilyn Parsell, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, and Mary Sherwood of Carrollton, a pupil of the bride's, was flower girl. Harold Parsell was best man for his brother and William Parsell, cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Robert Spaulding assisted with the ushering.

The bride wore a gown of French imported lace and matching veil, fingertip in length. The attendant's gowns were of net over tulle.

A reception in the social rooms of the church followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Parsell left on their wedding trip.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnot Meek of Carrollton and has taught in the rural schools of Greene county for the past four years. Mr. Parsell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parsell of Jerseyville. He is engaged in farming with his father.

Russians Increase Air Service

Moscow—(AP)—Soviet airlines have increased their flight schedules. From now on one flight daily instead of one flight every other day will depart for Moscow for Vladivostok.

Schedules of flights to Hakutsk from Moscow have also been increased. Freight-passenger flights from Moscow to Molotov (formerly Perm) in the northern Urals and to Omsk in Central Siberia have been added to schedules. There will be regular flights to the capital of Armenia, Erevan, and the Georgian city of Kutaisi from Moscow.

In addition to serve the flood of tourists going to Black Sea and the Caucasus resorts this summer special flights have been put on from such cities as Sverdlovsk, Minsk, Kiev, Leningrad, Chelyabinsk, Novosibirsk, Irkutsk, Karaganda and Khabarovsk.

Other lines in addition are scheduled to be opened up in the near future. Many of the new lines will be served by the new model Soviet twin-engine transport plane, the 11-12 which is large and comfortable.

The Virgin Islands consist of three main islands and about 50 islets.

Chinese Reds Make Own Moving Pictures

San Francisco—(AP)—Red China has gone into movie production. "Liberated China's first feature film, 'The Bridge,' is now being shown in Peiping," according to the Communist radio there. No claims are made that the picture is better than the product of Hollywood, but the broadcast, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, does say that it "compares with the best pictures produced in Shanghai, and in there it is considered far superior."

It was produced by the Northeast Film studio (apparently in Mukden) and concerns the building of a bridge across the Sungari River during the battle for Manchuria. "It shows what politically-conscious workers and technicians can do under the leadership of the Communist Party in China," says the radio. The bridge has to be built so that supplies can reach Gen. Lin Biao's armies if they are to defeat the Nationalists.

Hero of "The Bridge" is a railway workshop director whose furnaces have been wrecked by the fleeing Nationalists and whose supply of raw iron, to make the necessary

SWERVES TO MISS DOG ON HIGHWAY AUTO ROLLS OVER

Jerseyville—Miss Catherine Fessler of the Dow vicinity suffered only minor injuries in an automobile accident three miles south of Jerseyville on state route 109 when the car she was driving rolled over three times and came to rest on its top.

Miss Fessler is employed in Jerseyville and was enroute home when the accident occurred. A dog at the residence of Louis Miller on Route 109 ran onto the highway, Miss Fessler reported, and to miss running over the animal she swerved her car.

The vehicle got out of control and rolled over three times.

Miss Fessler was given treatment at the offices of a Jerseyville physician and was able to return to her work Wednesday morning.

HAS PRIVATE GRADUATION EXERCISE

West Palm Beach, Fla.—(AP)—Lewis Sterrett, 14, had a graduation exercise all his own.

Crippled since he was 7 and confined to a wheel chair, Lewis completed grammar school with the aid of a home teacher. His marks were good.

When graduation day came, Howell Watkins, school superintendent, went to the lad's home at Boynton Beach to present the diploma. The Rev. D. M. Obenshain gave the commencement address. And Miss Sharon Beals played a violin solo.

Food For Orphaned Birds

New York—(AP)—What should you feed little orphaned birds?

Most people are completely puzzled. There was a lady who fed it milk, and nearly drowned the poor bird. Other people scurry out on a hunt for worms and flies.

A good recipe for young birds is offered by the National Audubon Society. This year, it says, the society is getting many calls from puzzled foster-parents who find birds alive on artificial rations.

This recipe was developed by birds of the 1949 crop to be able to take care for themselves. Drought, accidents, and fires are taking a heavy toll of birds.

The recipe:

Six teaspoons of Pablum, a Baby Food. Three teaspoons of Geissler's mockingbird food, available at pet stores.

One-fourth teaspoon of calcium lactate, a powder of milk and calcium, carried by drug stores. Three drops of cod-liver oil. One teaspoon of ground hard-boiled egg.

Two teaspoons of ground carrots. This makes a day's ration for a bird the size of a robin. It has even proved successful for birds like woodpeckers, which are hard to keep.

Not until late July will most young birds of the 1949 crop be able to take care for themselves.

One aid for nesting birds that feed on insects is to keep backyards bird it's best to turn it over to a humane baths filled with water, it adds.

society or other organization which can judge whether the bird is too badly hurt to recover, the society says.

Drought in many parts of the country is creating trouble for many birds, the society said. Adult birds and animals have to travel long distances for water. Their eggs or their young are exposed to danger while they're gone. Upland game birds, such as pheasants, grouse and quail, have to leave protective cover to reach streams and ponds, and must take along their chicks that can't fly.

One aid for nesting birds that feed on insects is to keep backyards bird it's best to turn it over to a humane baths filled with water, it adds.

has turned to vinegar may help Argentina save her fruit industry. Threatened by Mediterranean fruit flies, Argentina's fruit exports have been reduced sharply because other nations fear introduction of the fruit fly which within a season can seriously damage production.

The Argentine Department of Agriculture in a circular to fruit farmers tells them how to build "fly traps" baited with wine vinegar. The traps, one for each four trees, are hung in the sun.

The fly is a natural drunkard. The department tells farmers to make periodic round of their orchards, collecting the intoxicated flies, and destroy them.

Also recommended is the use of DDT and toxic sprays.

No More Gambling In Jersey, Orders States Attorney

Jerseyville—The drive to eliminate gambling from cities and villages and rural areas in Jersey county promises to gain momentum in the immediate future unless warnings issued by State's Attorney Alvin H. Pettit of this city are heeded. In letters to the various mayors of cities in the county, Pettit has minced no words in his communication to "His Honor" regarding what will happen if conditions are not cleaned up.

Pettit's letter directed to the mayors of the county is as follows: "The Attorney General's office has written me insisting that gambling be discontinued in taverns in Jersey county. Inasmuch as Mr. Elliott has issued his ruling against gambling in taverns, and also because of the fact that he has written me directly advising that my office take all steps necessary to see that gambling in the way of slot machines and other equipment be not allowed in Jersey county taverns, I am therefore in turn requesting that all Mayors of Villages and Cities in Jersey county do their duty and keep slot machines and other gambling equipment out of the taverns in their respective villages and cities.

Numerous complaints have been lodged in my office, almost every week since I have taken office, against slot machines in taverns in Jersey county. If slot machines and gambling equipment are allowed in villages and cities, then it will be impossible to keep them out of taverns in the rural districts. It is going to be my policy in the future that all taverns, regardless of whether in the rural districts or in villages or cities, be required to keep slot machines and other gambling equipment out of taverns. If my ruling is not followed, I wish to advise that I shall not hesitate to report all violations of the law to the Attorney General's office, and if necessary, I shall not hesitate to ask for the recall of the grand jury to investigate any and all violations of gambling laws in taverns in Jersey county.

Trusting that you will advise all tavern operators and others in your city of my ruling, and also of the consequences should there be any violation thereof, I am,

Yours respectfully,
ALVIN H. PETTIT,
State's Attorney.

Modesto Girl, Girard Man Wed Here Wednesday

Miss Lucille Hemminghaus of Modesto and Kenneth Mansfield of Girard were united in marriage Wednesday at 1 p. m. in a single-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. William J. Boston at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Lena Green, 221 East Beecher avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ostendorf of Modesto are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Mansfield of Girard.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth, one subject of real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you just because a little FALSE TEETH, the alkaline, (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not turn. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FALSE TEETH at any drug store.

Serving as maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Ruth Hemminghaus. Noel Mansfield, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

The bride was attired in a blue linen dress, accented with a corsage of pink rosebuds. Her attendant wore pink linen, with a corsage of white rosebuds. A green dress with white accessories was worn by the bride's mother, while the bridegroom's mother wore black with white.

A reception in the Green home followed the ceremony. Refreshments, which included a two-tiered wedding cake, were served by Mrs. Lucille Hill and Miss Bessie Campbell.

Upon returning from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield will make their home on a farm near Modesto.

Those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ostendorf and daughter of Modesto; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Mansfield and Lendell Turner of Girard; Mr. and Mrs. Noel Mansfield of Carlinville; and Mrs. Marie Felton of Naples.

The instrument was witnessed by Russell J. Alvarez and Richard Vasey.

Leck Will Filed In County Court

The last will of the late Rebecca Jane Leck of Jacksonville has been filed for probate in the office of County Clerk George T. Douglas.

Dated June 22, 1945, it provides for the payment of $100 to the Jacksonville Cemetery association for the care of the grave in Diamond Grove cemetery.

All jewelry and silverware were bequeathed to a granddaughter, Barbara Bailey, and all other personal effects were bequeathed in equal shares to four daughters, Jeanette L. Pratt, Frances Bailey, Dorothy L. McCrackin and Marie Hayden.

Jeanette L. Pratt and Frances Bailey were named executors of the will and the former was named trustee of personal property and real estate for the benefit of Dorothy L. McCrackin.

The instrument was witnessed by Russell J. Alvarez and Richard Vasey.

Two More Entries Accepted For 1949 Soap Box Derby

Two more applicants have been accepted as contestants in the 1949 All-American Soap Box Derby, bringing the total number of entries to 46.

The two latest entries are George Thayer, Jr., Car No. 45, sponsored by Acme Feeds, and Marvin Fairfield, Car No. 46, sponsored by E. D. Bliese.

Although registration was officially closed Monday evening, the boys just barely missed the deadline and were accepted.

Bliese, who is sponsoring the car which Fairfield will drive in the local Derby on Sunday, July 17, has sponsored the runner-up car for the past two years.

PONDERING IN THE POKY—Sigmund Engel, aged "Knave of Hearts" who can't remember how many women he married (coops' estimate is 49) appears pensive as he languishes in Cook County jail, Chicago. He's cooped for want of a mere $65,000 bail, despite his boast of having bilked scores of women for "maybe five or six million dollars through the years." Held to the Grand Jury on a swindling charge, the Gray Lover's hearing was continued to July 14—Bastille Day.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Cause And Cure Of Leukemia Puzzles Medical Science

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

The disease leukemia was named and recognized more than a hundred years ago. The disease is characterized by destruction of some of the normal red cells in the blood and the addition of large numbers of colorless cells, or "leucocytes."

There are reasons for believing that it is becoming more frequent, although it may still be considered as a comparatively rare disease. There are several kinds of leukemia, depending on the particular variety of white cells involved, and on whether the condition is acute or chronic. Unfortunately the cause of leukemia is not known.

White Cells Increase
Under normal conditions there are about five to 10,000 white cells of leucocytes in a cubic millimeter of blood. In leukemia the numbers of white cells rises to 30,000 or 40,000 and sometimes more than 100,000.

It is usual for a patient to become weaker rapidly. Bleeding may take place from the gums or into the skin. In the slower or more chronic cases, enlargement of the lymph glands in the armpits, groin or neck may be the first sign of the disease. The spleen also is usually enlarged. Increasing fatigue is another common early sign.

Those who are afflicted with leukemia, especially the chronic varieties, can be helped temporarily in many cases by blood transfusion, or sometimes by X-rays over the spleen, or by certain arsenic preparations taken by mouth. Other methods are under investigation but cannot be considered as cures.

Note Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
QUESTION: Can saltstones be cured by going on a diet?
ANSWER: No.

State Merit Board Examines Charge Against Employee

Carrollton—A hearing before the merit system board of the state of Illinois was held here Tuesday in the circuit court room. Judge McBrien of Springfield presided as a special hearing officer. The case grew out of the board's dismissal of Miss Maude Collins from service with the local Illinois Public Aid commission in Greene county which took place May 15.

Miss Collins demanded a public hearing before the board.

Testimony in the case was heard all day Tuesday and Judge McBrien took the matter under advisement for ten days and will then make recommendation to the board.

Miss Collins, who was charged with inefficiency, had been employed in the local office for the past 11 years both as a visitor and for a time as superintendent.

Miss Collins was represented in the case by the law firm of Hutchens and Alfeld of this city and W. P. Sheehan of Springfield. The state of Illinois was represented by W. O. Harp of Roodhouse and Attorney McGovern of Chicago.

Beauty Contest at Fair
A beauty contest will again be a feature of the 94th Greene County Fair which is scheduled to open July 11. All girls from sixteen to 21 years, inclusive, who are interested in entering the beauty contest this year was asked to contact Miss Jean Alfeld or Robert Bandy, both of this city, not later than Thursday evening, July 14, at six p. m.

Box seats will be sold in front of the Greene county court house at 1:30 p. m. July 9.

Nazarene Group To Elect Officers

Officers for the ensuing year, which begins Sept. 1, will be elected by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Church of the Nazarene at its meeting to be held Friday at 8 p. m., at the church, located at the corner of South Main and Franklin streets. Mrs. George Thies will preside and Mrs. Ida Petty, superintendent of study, will present chapter ten of the study book.

The sewing day will be held July 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Edge near Chandlerville. A potluck luncheon will be served at noon.

Spray Plane Hits Fence In Takeoff

Carrollton—Carl Whiteman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Corbett Whiteman of Montrose, Colo., who are former Carrollton residents, escaped without serious injury Monday when his new plane cracked up on a takeoff on the Osterman Bros. farms. Whiteman who had purchased the plane a short time before in Dallas and flown it here and had equipped with the plane with insect spraying attachments. He was preparing to spray for grasshoppers on the Osterman farm when the plane made a faulty takeoff and crash landed after striking a fence.

Fountains, Other Display Fireworks Ruled As Lawful

Colorful display fireworks such as fountains, flower pots, illuminating mines, pinwheels and torches may be legally purchased and used, according to an unpublished opinion pertaining to the fireworks laws of Illinois. The opinion was prepared by former Attorney General George F. Barrett and confirmed by the Office of Attorney General Ivan A. Elliott.

State's Attorney Al W. Hall has advised city and law enforcement officials of Morgan county that his previous ruling on the question of lawful and unlawful fireworks was amended in accordance with the

POPULATION GAIN

The opinion listed those items of fireworks specifically banned by the legislature, but advised that those items which did not make an audible sound during "deflagration" must be considered lawful. Other legal types include sparklers, toy pistols and other cap devices. Illegal types include firecrackers of any size, blank cartridges, toy cannons in which explosives are used, fire balloons, torpedoes, skyrocket, Roman candles and bombs.

The Census Bureau today estimated the population of the United States at 148,711,000 on May 1, a gain of 765,000 in the first four months of 1949.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, June 30—(P)—Livestock trends were mixed today. Hogs were unevenly steady to 25 cents lower, cattle 25 lower to 50 cents higher, spring lambs weak, and ewes steady. Butcher weight hogs generally sold from $18.75 to $21.25. The top reached $21.40 for a load. Weights above 300 pounds were scarce. Sows took $12.75 to $17.75 and a top of $18.25. Salable hog receipts ran 1,000 head above trade expectation and a like number was held over unsold. Choice steers maintained their $28.75 top of the previous session, with medium to low-choice steers, yearlings, and heifers all going scaleward at $22 to $27.50. Sausage bulls topped at $22 and vealers at $25.50. Clearance was incomplete on spring lambs with the top at $26. Most good to choice material sold between $24.50 and $25.50. Ewes topped at $9. Receipts included 8,600 hogs for sale, 3,500 cattle, 400 calves, and 600 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, June 30—(P)—A heavy-flocked stock market slowly advanced today. Gains ranged from fractions to around a point. Not enough buying power developed to give the price level any more of a lift. Trading interest was no more than apathetic. Turnover was at the rate of only 600,000 shares or so for the full session. Corporate bonds moved narrowly.

LATE SELLING EITHER ERASES OR REDUCES COMMODITY GAINS

Chicago, June 30—(P)—Selling late in the day either completely wiped out or greatly reduced gains made in early dealings on the Board of Trade today. The selling followed new rains had been received in parts of the spring wheat and rye belts. Rye tumbled sharply, dropping more than 4 cents under the previous close at times. This is a thin market and a little increase in either buying or selling will cause wide price swings, traders said. Receipts were: wheat 159 cars, corn 105, oats 33, rye none, barley 18, soybeans 21. Wheat closed 1-13 lower, July $1.95-1/2, corn was 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, July $1.34-1/2, oats were 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, July $1.34-1/2, rye was 2 1/4 lower, July $1.34-1/2-1/4, soybeans were unchanged to 1/4 higher, July $2.34-1/2 and lard was 10 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $10.50.

Edwards Sparks Cubs To Victory Over Cards

St. Louis, June 30.—(P)—Right fielder Hank Edwards caught fire here today and led the Chicago Cubs to a 12-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Edwards slammed two home runs, scored five times out of five trips to the plate and drove in four tallies. The round trippers, one in the fourth and the other in the seventh inning, brought Edwards' total for this year to seven. His first today was poked on a three and nothing pitch with no one on. The second scored Hank Sauer, who had singled to center.

Chicago chalked up its 12 runs on 12 hits, collected from four St. Louis pitchers. The Cards scattered 11 hits off Bob Rush and Johnny Schmitz. The losing pitcher was Red Munger, who was driven from the mound after the seventh inning. His successors were Gerry Staley, Ken Johnson and Fred Martin, the Mexican league jumper who just returned to the Red Birds.

Fans Set New Voting High In All-Star Poll

Chicago, June 30.—(P)—A new record of more than 4,315,000 votes has been established in the All-Star poll to determine the starting lineups for the National vs. American league game at Brooklyn July 12.

With votes still being compiled, the final tabulation scheduled Saturday is expected to be far above the former record of 4,107,893 set last year. The nation-wide balloting ended at midnight last night.

The latest count of 4,315,998 ballots left still undecided two starting positions in the American league—second base and shortstop—at first base, third base and catcher.

Last-hour counting also will settle the best vote-getting duel between Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox outfielder, who has 1,952,876, and Brooklyn's brilliant negro second sacker, Jackie Robinson, who has 1,730,124.

Latest returns:

National League
First base—Mize, New York, 986,401; Waitkus, Philadelphia, 954,372; Rodgers, Brooklyn, 863,115; Kluszewski, Cincinnati, 481,936; V. Jones, St. Louis, 314,284.

Second base—J. Robinson, Brooklyn, 1,730,124; Schoendienst, St. Louis, 949,486; Verban, Chicago, 587,955; Stanky, Boston, 422,125; Bloodworth, 267,184.

Third base—Kazak, St. Louis, 1,216,953; S. Gordon, New York, 1,216,842; Elliott, Boston, 640,912; Gustin, Chicago, 481,263; Cox, Brooklyn, 274,077.

Shortstop—Reese, Brooklyn, 1,287,464; Marion, St. Louis, 1,132,810; Dark, Boston, 851,547; Stallcup, Cincinnati, 492,910; Kerr, New York, 264,104.

Catcher—Seminick, Philadelphia, 1,117,082; Campanella, Brooklyn, 936,463; Cooper, Cincinnati, 502,718; Salkeld, Boston, 338,196; Mueller, New York, 293,897.

Outfielders—Kiner, Pittsburgh, 1,546,184; Musial, St. Louis, 1,519,206; Marshall, New York, 1,404,372; Slaughter, St. Louis, 1,289,386; Thomson, New York, 1,076,983; Pafko, Chicago, 832,246; Lockman, New York, 798,102; Ashburn, Philadelphia, 624,528; Westlake, Pittsburgh, 419,736; Ennis, Philadelphia, 372,048.

First base—E. Robinson, Washington, 1,193,258; Goodman, Boston, 718,163; Vernon, Cleveland, 691,402.

The Rogerson Coal Co. and Amvet junior nines won high-scoring frays in their respective leagues at the Northside park last night.

Beasley twirled the Rogerson aggregation to a three-hit, 25-13 National league win over the Trinity club gang in the preliminary.

In the American league feature attraction at the 'kid' park, the Amvets juniors bumped the Squires 14-9. Herrin was the winning pitcher, allowing only 6 hits. Sellers and Blesse, twirling for the Squires, allowed the same number of hits but numerous Squire errors aided the Amvets in their win.

On and after July 1, 1949 the rate for all legal notices published in the Jacksonville Daily Journal and the Jacksonville Daily Courier will be 15¢ a count line.

Decatur Girls Running Well In Womens Golf Meet

Lincoln, Neb., June 30.—(P)—There was blazing golf under a blazing sun in the Women's annual Trans-Mississippi Golf tournament here today.

The predictions that there would be plenty of tough competition over the 6,330 yard Lincoln Country club course in today's 18 hole second round matches was fully borne out.

Defending champion Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas, had to come up with all the pressure golf she had to win over a fellow Texan, one up.

It was Mrs. H. C. Riedel of Dallas who harried the champ all the way in this match. Polly turned in a one under par 78 and Mrs. Riedel an even par 79.

But the most blazing golf played under the scorching sun that sent the temperature up into the high 90's and brought moans from nearly all the players was turned in by Miss Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill.

The Illinois girl, who has been under par for all her play in the tourney to date, was at her best today.

In beating Beate McWane, Provo, Utah, 3 and 2, Miss Lindsay played 16 holes in men's par figures, and six under women's par.

Elks Nip K.C.'s 4-3 In Eighth; V.F.W. Nine Wins

The Jacksonville K. of C. "A" league local softball entry led their circuit cousins—the Elks—for six innings before seeing them knot the count at 3-all in the seventh inning and go on to score the extra run in the eighth frame to win 4-3.

Dean Fah—pitching for the second consecutive night—turned in a nice pitching performance for the Elks, though he trailed most of the way. Jake McGrath, lean K. of C. chucker, was at his best, holding the Elks runless for six innings. However, the slight right-hander tired in the last chapter enough to see the winning Elks runs cross the dish.

Jim McGrath, K.C. outfielder, was injured in the third inning when he caught his spikes attempting to slide into third base. He was taken to the hospital where X-rays showed that he suffered a badly sprained right ankle.

In the preliminary "B" league fracas, the V.F.W. sluggers outlasted the Merchant crew to win 9-0 in the regulation seven-inning period.

Boston Braves Take Twin Bill From New York

New York, June 30.—(P)—Boston's Braves swept a double-header from the New York Giants today, 3-0 and 6-2, to move into a third place tie with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Bill Voiselle and Elbie Fletcher, two men the Giants practically gave away, collaborated to win the first game.

Voiselle, traded away by the Giants two years ago for a useless Mort Cooper, blanked his old mates with four hits.

Fletcher, sold by the Giants to the Braves a month ago accounted for all Boston's runs. He slammed a three-run homer off Hank Behrman in the fifth.

Glenn Elliott, rookie left-hander, gained his first victory of the year in the second game, holding the Giants to four hits. Solo homers by Jack Lohrke and Johnny Mize produced the Giants only runs.

A muffed fly by Whitely Lockman with two out and the bases full enabled two Boston runners to score in the fourth. The Braves added three more in the fifth on inside-the-park homers by Alvin Dark and Bob Elliott. Dark's came with one on.

First game:

Boston 000 030 000-3 4 0
New York 000 000 000-0 4 0
Voiselle and Livingston; Behrman, gain his 12th victory against two losses. Vic helped his own cause with a run-producing single in the fourth.

Second game:

Boston 000 230 010-6 7 0
New York 000 001 100-2 4 3
G. Elliott and Crandall; Jones, Kennedy (5), Webb (7) and R. Mueller, Westrum (4). HRS: Bos-Dark and R. Elliott; NY-Lohrke and Mize. LF-Jones.

DiMag Does It Again As Yankees Win 6-3

Boston, June 30.—(P)—The devastating bat of Joltin' Joe DiMaggio did it again today.

The great Yankee clipper, for the third straight day, crashed a home run in Fenway Park, to lead the league leading New York Yankees to a 6-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The circuit clout, his fourth since entering the lineup for the first time this season last Tuesday, came with two on in the seventh inning, and provided the winning margin.

The victory enabled the Yankees to sweep the three-game series from the Sox, and put them eight games in front of the club Yankee Manager Casey Stengel regards as the one to beat for the flag.

DiMaggio's sensational slugging climaxed a three-day hitting spree that gave the star centerfielder a total of five hits in 11 official times at bat, and nine runs batted in. His last four hits all have been for the distance. Joe's four-baggers were re-won by the Yankees winning the first two games.

DiMaggio's four homers also gave him a major league total of 307 to tie him with Johnny Mize of the New York Giants for the most round trippers by an active player.

Vic Raschi, although tagged for a dozen hits, went the distance to gain his 12th victory against two losses. Vic helped his own cause with a run-producing single in the fourth.

Southpaw Mel Parnell was the first of three Boston pitchers used, and he drew his fourth loss, as compared with 10 victories.

Basketball Merger Rumors Revived

Indianapolis, June 30.—(P)—Rumors of a national basketball league-basketball association of America merger were revived tonight.

They accompanied an announcement that the NBL has leased the Butler University fieldhouse for its Indianapolis Olympians next season.

The deal represents a victory for the NBL over the rival BAA, whose Indianapolis jets played in the fieldhouse last winter.

Ike Duffey, NBL president, would neither confirm nor deny the merger rumor, but he said that the merger was "within the realm of possibility."

There are also 27 grandchildren and 39 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Fred Pewter, Greenfield, Dies; Funeral Saturday

Greenfield—Mrs. Fred S. Pewter died at her home in this city at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

She was born in Western Mount township in Macoupin county six miles east of Greenfield on Aug. 6, 1881, a daughter of Christian C. and Mary H. Fraser Wade.

In a ceremony performed in Greenfield on Aug. 4, 1915, Mildred C. Wade married Fred S. Pewter. He was formerly superintendent of schools of Rockbridge and is now a member of the Greene county public aid commission staff.

Survivors include her husband; one daughter, Miss Winifred, a teacher in the Roxana school system; three sisters, Mrs. William H. Ballard, Roodhouse; Mrs. W. A. Gillespie, Waverly; Mrs. John C. Daniel, Sherman, Texas, and one brother, Roy Wade of Greenfield.

Two brothers and a sister preceded her in death.

Mrs. Pewter was a member of St. Michael's Catholic church in Greenfield, the Greenfield Woman's club and Rockbridge camp, Royal Neighbors of America.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Michael's church. Father Joseph Boll will officiate and burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

The body is at the Shields Funeral Home, where it will remain until time of services. The Rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 8 p.m. Friday.

Policeman Says No Car Parked At Assault Scene

Chicago, June 30—(P)—A policeman testified today he saw no car at the designated spot during the time a music teacher said his fiancée was beaten to death and he was forced to drink poison.

The music teacher is Arthur Marino, 28. His 17-year-old red-haired fiancée was Joan Coward. Marino told police that when he and Miss Coward parked near a water-filled lake hole, they were assaulted by two strangers who forced him to drink ammonia and stand in the lake for 45 minutes, while they beat Miss Coward severely.

The patrolman was Fred Mohr, of suburban Dolton. He testified at a coroner's inquest that no car was visible at the spot during the early hours of Wednesday morning. He made his rounds every hour, driving past the spot at 4 a.m. and again at 5:10 a.m. Marino related he brought the dying girl to the police station at about 6 a.m. Wednesday directly from the spot.

Second Twin Dies From Scalding Bath

Hammond, Ind., June 30—(P)—Eighteen-month-old Robert Gora died in a scalding bath of burns suffered in a scalding bath which was also fatal to his twin sister, Carol. The sister died Monday.

The children had been left by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gora, in charge of a 9-year-old baby sister, Joan Farrell.

Police Sgt. John Einsel said an investigation indicated one of the twins may have turned on the hot water accidentally while the baby sister was bringing their night clothing from another room.

99 Counties To Send Delegates To Home Bureau Conference

Women from 99 counties in Illinois are expected here for the annual citizenship conference of the Illinois Home Bureau Federation, which will be held at MacMurray college on July 6, 7, 8 and 9.

More than 200 women, including several distinguished speakers, will attend. The 99 counties in the state which have Home Bureaus will be represented by two delegates each usually the county chairman and vice chairman.

The Morgan county delegates are Mrs. James Dunlap and Mrs. C. J. Lonergan, both of Jacksonville. Mrs. Dunlap is vice president of the executive board of the Morgan-Scott Home Bureau and Mrs. Lonergan is the secretary-treasurer.

Although not a delegate, Mrs. Harold Joy, the president, will also attend.

Open To All Women The sessions are open to all women of the community, as well as to all Home Bureau members. The county delegates will be housed at the college during the entire conference.

Planned especially for Home Bureau members, the conference is designed to familiarize women with the problems which today confront citizens throughout the world and to alert them to the responsibilities of citizenship in all its phases.

Lectures and discussions on matters of vital importance will highlight the conference, which will get under way with the opening session at 2 p.m. on Wednesday and continue through Saturday noon. Registration will begin Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Stephen Foster Party As is the custom, one night of the conference is set aside for a special event. This year's event will be a Stephen Foster party on the lawn of the college.

The women will wear gowns reminiscent of the period in which Foster lived. Selections by the great American composer will be played and sung throughout the entire evening.

Jersey College Entertains Home Bureau Members About 50 members of Morgan-Scott Home Bureau were present Tuesday when Jersey College unit was hostess to the Murreyville, Jacksonville, Ashbury and Ebenezer units. The meeting was held in Farm Bureau hall.

Mrs. F. H. Hommer presided in the "Know Your Neighbor" and "Table of Contents" of the president. Lessons on "Decorations" were presented by the home adviser.

Piano solos were played by Jeanette Broner, Shirley Ginder and Lucille Ginder. Mrs. Dale Mawson gave a reading.

Recreation was conducted by Mrs. Merrill Masten, with prizes going to Mrs. Everett Reynolds, Mrs. C. J. Lonergan and Mrs. W. C. Carter. The hostess unit served tea.

Funeral Services Held At Ashland For William Hinds Ashland—Final rites for William Hinds, 90, were held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Gainer Funeral Home with Rev. Alf Anderson, pastor of the Baptist church, in charge.

Two songs, "Abide With Me" and "Face to Face," were sung by Mrs. Seth Minters, with Miss Pearl Caswell as accompanist.

The floral offerings were cared for by the granddaughters of the deceased and Mrs. Edith Caswell. The pallbearers were George Jenkins, Mont. Street, Lloyd Houser, Emmett Clark, Albert Whitman and Ralph Thompson.

Interment was made in the Ashland cemetery.

Achievements Of Carrollton 4-H Clubs Recognized

Carrollton—The local achievements of both the Carrollton Workright and the Carrollton Cardinal 4-H clubs was held recently at a meeting of the night home bureau unit in the home economics room of the public school building.

Summaries of the Cardinal club projects, out-door meals and dairy products, were given by Miss Sarah Beth Williams, Miss Barbara Shaw and Miss Mary Lou Huver, Miss Harriet Bowie, sang a solo, after which Miss Joyce Smith, vice president, introduced the club members and leaders, Mrs. Carl Nell and Mrs. Paul Carter.

The older group of 4-H girls, members of the Workright club, took clothing projects this summer. A summary, "You Learn to Sew," was given by Miss Mary Agnes Rave.

Miss Mary Eldred summarized advanced sewing with "Clothes for the 4-H Girl."

Musical numbers from this group consisted of a vocal solo by Miss Virginia Lou Hutchens, accompanied by Miss Betty Lemons. Miss Nancy Meyer and Miss Kathleen Meyer played a piano duet, with Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Rave giving a piano solo.

Demonstrations were presented by Misses Charlotte Sturgeon, Nancy Meyer, Mary Lou Huver and Betty Ann Siebermann. Thirty girls participated in the dress revue and closed the program with the singing of "The Day is Done."

Leaders of the Workright girls are Mrs. Louis Ostermann, Mrs. Guy Petty and Mrs. Oren Siebermann. Mrs. Donald Allen, 4-H club chairman, has been especially active in assisting the leaders, presided. She introduced Miss Betty Ann Siebermann, who had charge of the presentation of the club programs.

Refreshments were served to 85 4-H members, their mothers, ladies of the home bureau unit and other friends.

Members of the Carrollton Workright club and their leaders have completed plans to go to Jacksonville Wednesday, July 6, for a picnic and swimming party at Nichols park.

Members of the local Knights of Columbus and their wives were guests at a lawn party Monday evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinacher. Approximately 125 were in attendance.

SFC Jack Edwards, who is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., spent the week end here with his mother, having been called home by the illness of his father, Dr. Ross Edwards, Dr. Edwards is undergoing examination and treatment in the DePaul hospital, St. Louis, this week. SFC Edwards returned to Fort Knox Tuesday evening.

Waitkus' Fanatical Admirer Sent Away To Mental Hospital Chicago, June 30—(P)—Eddie Waitkus' most fanatical admirer was sent away for mental treatment today almost as quickly as she shot the first baseman in a hotel room 15 days ago.

Between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. these things happened to Miss Ruth Ann Steinhausen, 19-year-old former typist who bore a secret crush on the Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman for two years:

1. She and Waitkus, who was in a wheelchair recuperating from a 22 caliber rifle bullet wound, met socially for the second time in the felony courtroom of Judge Matthew D. Hartigan.

2. After a brief hearing at which Waitkus told of the strange assault, Judge Hartigan fixed the girl's bond at $50,000 and held her for action by the grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

3. The Cook county (Chicago) grand jury voted a true bill which was returned before Chief Justice James J. McDermott of the criminal court as an indictment for assault with intent to murder.

4. A criminal court jury of six men and six women adjudged the girl insane. Judge McDermott ordered her committed to the Kankakee state hospital for treatment.

5. The girl was taken to the hospital 54 miles south of Chicago.

6. At 2 p.m. (CST) she arrived at Kankakee hospital.

NOTICE On and after July 15th, 1949 all persons keeping hogs within the city limits of Jacksonville in violation of city ordinance will be prosecuted. Published by order of the city council of the city of Jacksonville.

Sangamon River Outlet Nearly Finished; Ends Twin Channel Hazards

The latest project of the nearly 70 year fight by federal and state officials and private landowners to control the flood waters of the Sangamon river is nearing completion. Only one dredge of the Harwick Construction company is now engaged in the last phase of the excavation of the new six and one-half mile for the river, from approximately nine miles below Champaign to Muscooten bay near Beardstown.

John H. Taylor of Virginia, a long-time leader in Sangamon river flood control projects, was in Jacksonville Wednesday to attend a district AAA meeting. He said the channel would be completed "within the next few days."

He reported that many farmers of the area are farming ground which has not been turned by a plow in years. One man has a fine crop of corn in a field that has been a good spot for trotline fishing in recent years.

All crops in the Sangamon valley look very good, Mr. Taylor said.

Authorized in 1936

The new work was authorized by the flood control act which was approved June 22, 1936. Preliminary surveys were begun in 1939.

Provided for in this project is the excavation of a new outlet channel 200 feet wide. It extends from Hager slough on the Illinois river to near Cuba island. Also provided for is a diversion channel and remedial works necessary for the maintenance of a high water table in adjacent, wild game preserves.

The plans and specifications were completed in 1946 and actual work was started in September 1947. The overall contract cost amounts to $532,000.

Years ago at a place about a mile below where the new outlet connects to the river a large drift was formed. This drift soon filled in the river channel and the impeded waters spread over the bottom land finding new channels for itself.

Two Channels Formed

The river finally settled into two main channels, one which kept the name of the Sangamon river and the other which was called the Little Sangamon river. The main branch of the stream went to the right and emptied into the Illinois river at the lower end of Hickory island about two miles above Brownings. The secondary stream turned off to the left and after splitting into a number of smaller channels emptied into the Illinois river mainly at the part of the river known as Sangamon lake.

As both these channels were rather narrow and shallow a slight rise in the level of the Sangamon river would send the water overflowing the banks. During approximately half the year the lowlands in this area were under water.

One Crop In Six
While this overflow made the area an ideal spot for anglers and waterfowl hunters the farmers' harvests suffered. It was estimated in a report made to the U. S. House of Representatives in 1931 that the farmers of the lower land could expect to harvest only one crop in six while those on the slightly higher ground might expect a return of two crops out of every five.

The project was designed to provide one central channel which will be able to handle the entire amount of water discharged by the Sangamon river and to prevent the continual flooding of the lowlands.

WINCHESTER "Rubble Babies" Cute As Any

Winchester—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Chapman and children, Tom and Clara, left Friday to settle in their new home in Arenzville.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coultas and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Connor were Sunday afternoon picnickers in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dugan entertained at a dinner party in their home Monday night.

Mrs. L. A. Watt entertained her bridge club Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Balsley and daughter, Jackie, arrived Thursday from California for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith.

Captain and Mrs. Warren Campbell and baby daughter arrived last week for a visit with Mrs. Cecil Campbell and Dr. and Mrs. Dew. Milstead.

Mrs. Skiles Lael of Winchester has returned from Cedar Falls, Iowa, where she attended funeral services of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Webb. Burial was in Cedar Falls cemetery. Also attending were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Williams of Sinclair; L. B. Williams of White Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Williams of Alexander; Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. McGinnon, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams of Springfield.

The percentage of Americans 65 years old or older has nearly doubled in the last 50 years.

Berlin—(P)—Berlin's "rubble generation" is dominantly male. Boys outnumber girls by 10 percent in births in this war-ravaged and politically-divided city.

Sociologists say the phenomenon of an upswing in male births after the blood-letting of a world war is just what they expected. It is nature's habit.

Berlin's crop of babies in 1948 approximated 35,000. That represented a gain of 42 percent over 1946.

Because postwar babies here will have to live among scenes of old devastation for many years, they're called the "rubble generation."

Actually, Allied families find them as attractive as those anywhere.

The city makes no distinction in registration between legitimate births and those which occur out of wedlock. But officials say that the illegitimacy rate has noticeably declined since the moral chaos which followed Germany's collapse.

Sociologists forecast that it will be another 25 years before the sharp disproportion between men and women, caused by war losses, is overcome. They fear the development of a trend toward homosexuality in German youth.

Italy's Auto Makers Beat Back Toward 'Normal'

Rome—(AP)—Italy's automobile industry will be back to normal before the end of the year, the National Association of Automobile Makers (ANFIA) announced.

It will be possible by then to enter a car dealer's display room, pay for your car and get it right away. Now it takes some six months to get a new car. The present situation is blamed mainly on 90 days of strikes and labor agitation in the main Italian industries in the first four months of this year, ANFIA said.

Production which has slowed down 30 percent, is now quickly speeding up and will reach normal in a few months. While all European automobile makers are producing mainly for export, the Italian industry keeps a good share of its production for the internal market. ANFIA said in France only 46.5 per cent of cars registered last year were new. (In England the figure was 33.9 per cent) and in Italy 74.1 per cent.

Until a few weeks ago, black market on new cars flourished. A new car directly from the factory could be sold at a good profit to ready customers. Prices mark ups were sometimes as high as 30 per cent over regular dealer price lists. ANFIA took strong steps to stop the practice.

WHITE HALL

White Hall — Charles Campbell has gone to Hot Springs, Arkansas, to receive treatment for a rheumatic condition. He expects to be away about two weeks.

Mrs. William Hale, the former Zelma Barnard, underwent major surgery at Memorial hospital at Alton. Mrs. Hale makes her home in Cottage Hill.

Mrs. Nila Barclay and daughter returned this week from a visit in Peoria at the home of her sister.

The Tabernacle Baptist church held a baptismal service east of Roodhouse Sunday afternoon for five new members of the church. A large crowd attended from here as well as neighboring churches. Rev. Frank Wheeler, pastor, was in charge of the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Price, of White Hall, Mr. and Mrs. James Short, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Day of Carrollton, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dunigan of Roodhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanderson enjoyed an outing on Sunday at Pere Marquette Park, with a fish fry and basket dinner included in the day's activities.

A club composed of 12 couples of the young married group in White Hall was entertained Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Kesinger, with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sackman acting as co-hosts. A supper was served.

POSTWAR PRODUCTION PEAKS
In the Quarters of — 1947 —				1948 —				1949
1	2	3	4	1	2	3	4	1	2	3	4

PRODUCTIVE HEIGHTS—Everybody thought that as soon as the war was over U.S. production would reach unprecedented heights. But it just didn't work out that way. This newschart shows when the postwar production peak of homes, automobiles, household appliances and steel was reached. Extremely heavy production of household items has substantially increased the U.S. standard of living, but production of homes and autos is lagging and has not come up to wartime predictions. Surpassing even their war mark, shipments of steel rose to record heights. The comparatively late peaks for cars and steel are the result of widespread strikes and shortages in those industries in 1946. (Data from the American Iron and Steel Institute.)

Carrollton—Mrs. Carl Nell entertained Tuesday afternoon at her home in celebration of the fourth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Kristen. Included in the guests were Donald Nell of Hillview, Marilyn McEl, Margaret Mohlman, Marsha Journey, Donna Sue Allen, Linda Berry, Charlotte Rose Grigg, and Mignon Sue Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. George Whiteside of Stillwater, Okla. have purchased the property known as "The Old Place" from Mrs. George T. B. Atwood and will be given possession in December.

"The Old Place" consisting of a house and 22 acres of land has been owned by members of the Wright family since 1840 when George Wright bought the place and took his wife there as a bride. The farm was owned by Arthur Wright a son of George Wright until a few years ago when it was sold to Wright's sister-in-law, Mrs. Atwood, who remodeled it and made it into her summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside, both of whom are former Carrollton residents, plan to make "The Old Place" their home next year upon the retirement of Whiteside as dean of engineering at the Oklahoma A. & M. Whiteside is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Whiteside of this city and his wife is the former Nellie Johnson also of this city.

Miss Dolores McKinney of Girard is spending a week here at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Laurel Grigg.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore of Piasa were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Daniels. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Waesche of Spring, New Jersey, were guests Sunday of her mother Mrs. Nellie Smith, enroute to California.

E. Pierson, W. G. Vogt, Mrs. T. H. Linn, Miss Edith Carmody and

Clem Dunsworth were among those from here who went to Hardin Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. P. A. Gotway. Mrs. Gotway is the mother of Mrs. George Green of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. David Linn of Chicago will arrive this weekend to spend two weeks with their parents, Mrs. T. H. Linn of this city and Mrs. Emma Welch of Jerseyville.

The members of the Lions Club softball team and their wives and guests will have a picnic supper Thursday evening at the City Springs.

Four Snakes Are Pets In This Family

Roswell, N. M.—(P)—Something unusual in the pet line are four gopher snakes, pets of the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holt, of Roseville. The reptiles were brought to the children by Holt, who is a geologist for an oil company, and travels extensively over the southwest.

None of the children—Christa, 12, John 9, Bud, 5, or Sheila, 2,—exhibit any fear of the reptiles. The mother of the family admits that she isn't too fond of the little slithering creatures herself, but she has learned to get used to them.

The elder Holt's interest in the reptiles almost ended disastrously a few years back, while the family was living in Wyoming. Earlier, in Mississippi, he had made a hobby of capturing rattlesnakes and shipping them (alive) to a friend in the University of Mississippi. When he tried it in the west, however, the rattlers proved a little more agile, and he was bitten, narrowly escaping death.

The brown and yellow gopher snakes are kept in a box in the backyard of the family home when the children are not playing with them. Occasionally, they are allowed out in the yard, but they are closely watched to keep them from escaping.

The youngsters handle their snake friends the same way others might play with more conventional pets. They stroke them, blow on them around their necks, and feed them when necessary.

Information on them is quickly forthcoming, when the subject of "snakes" is mentioned before the children, especially Christa. She told the reporter that the snakes are creatures that is, they kill their food by squeezing it to death. She added that the main rule in handling the reptiles is to refrain from making sudden moves as such actions frighten them.

In addition to the four snakes, the Holt children have a more ordinary pet, Smokey, a dog of doubtful ancestry, accepts the snakes as calmly as the rest of the family, but his quick movements sometimes frighten the reptiles.

When Mrs. Holt was approached about a story concerning her snake-loving children, she was a bit dubious at first.

"When the neighbors find out about the snakes, they may want us to move," she said.

New York Harbor Gets Cleaning

New York—(P)—When you clean New York harbor strange things come out of the cleaner. The cleaner is the Goethals, biggest of the 103 dredges operated by the U. S. Army.

It's a full time job for the big ship—147 feet long with a beam of over 38 feet. Most of what she picks up from the harbor bottom is silt and sand. But there are also bits of wrecks, guns and knives dropped in the harbor by the police, old pipe, anchor chains as well as rocks as heavy as 200 pounds. Sometimes these clog the big suction tubes and have to be cleared away with axes and torches.

The Goethals not only cleans the places in the harbor where silt accumulates, but works at deepening and widening the ship channels. When she accumulates 7,000 tons in her hold she steams to the outer harbor and drops it in deep water.

About 7.6 per cent of the people in the United States are now 65 years old or older.

One group Cotton dresses including Leigions and Martha Mannings. Values to $16.95 now $10.

CLIPPED ANGEL

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Mike McTag, a minor engineer with definite ideas about women, is working for a colorful old prospector, to find out why the Dark Angel is producing low-grade ore. Mike's first step is to take secret samples of the vein, unbeknownst to Uncle Jake Whinnaker, mill manager, and Archie Trank, the underground foreman. One of the lot is tampered with but the other lot shows a much higher valuation per ton. Mike tells Cory what he has found and says that Uncle Jake and Archie are the ones. Cory is unwilling to believe it—both have been with the mine for years. But Mike finds out that both have proposed to her and that she told Archie not to be a fool and laughed outright at Uncle Jake. Riggs, the assayer, also is in on it, says Mike. Hence Riggs was hired by Uncle Jake.

“I’ll fire Riggs—we know he’s a crook—and tell Archie about these assay figures. Now that it’s proved he ought to be able to find out what’s happening,” Cory finally decided.

I was so exasperated I could have dropped her down the main shaft of her own mine. I decided to make one more attempt.

“Cory, listen to me. Carefully. If you fire Riggs, and Riggs only, you’ll tip off the gang and they’ll get your high-grade ore, maybe some of it, or maybe none—you’ll always be wondering which.”

I paused to light another cigarette and let my blood pressure drop a few points. “All right. You say you refuse to fire everybody, because somebody who’s innocent might suffer. Very creditable. I bow to your humanitarian instincts. But—if you insist on being noble you can’t fire Riggs. You can’t tell Archie or Uncle Jake or anybody anything. You’ve got to pretend you don’t know anything about the mine, and all the time hunt like the dickens for that missing high-grade. Get me?”

“You know something, Mike? You look really handsome when you get worked up.”

“Nuts!” I shouted, and stamped out the cigarette I had just lit.

“Mike?”

“Will you hunt for it? For me?”

I looked down at her. She was still sitting on the moss and bits of it were in her hair. Her shirt was mussed and her slacks were stained with mud from the knee down, and by rights she should have looked like two cents. She looked like the four million dollars she didn’t have.

So I let her have it straight. “Yes,” I said. “For you, I will.”

I never could figure out women. Next thing I knew she was crying.

AFTER lunch I had a bull session with myself and eventually concluded that the stuff couldn’t possibly be pinched from the mill bunkers.

There were too many men around, and even if they were all greased, sooner or later one of them would decide he could get more money from Cory than from the gang and the truth would be out.

That left the alternative: somewhere there existed an entirely unsuspected entrance to the mine.

But that brought up another angle, one I hadn’t thought of before. You can’t lug a sack of high-grade ore into a smelter and say, “How much, Mac?”

You have to sign a contract, stating location of mine and type of ore; you have to arrange with the railroads for empty gondola cars, pick-ups and freight bills; there are a hundred and one things that have to be done, a lot of them right out in the open.

Therefore Cory’s ore was going either to a regular, producing mine, where it was mixed with the mine’s own ore, or else it was going to what the smelter people thought was a producing mine, but what was actually a dummy outfit set up as a blind.

SO I had two problems on my hands. First, to find a secret entrance to the mine, and second to find out where the ore was going. I decided to tackle the second one first.

I went back and asked Cory how many mineral claims there were in the valley.

“Thousands,” she said. “People have been prospecting around here for a hundred years.”

“Not counting the abandoned ones, how many are being worked right now, within, say, 20 miles of here?”

She thought a moment. “Maybe 40 or 50.”

I tried another tack. “How many have shipped ore to the smelter?”

She thought again. “About a dozen that I know of.”

“Good. Tell me how to get to them.”

Cory gave explicit directions on how to reach each of the mines that were shipping ore to the smelter. Altogether there were 13, which sounded ominous to start with. Some of them could be crossed off to begin with and others would take no more than a couple of minutes to check off once I’d seen them. Half a dozen stops ought to do the job.

I set out in her blue convertible half an hour later, not looking forward particularly to the job. Prospectors are a suspicious bunch and if you ask them more than one question they think you’re a potential claim-jumper and reach for the shotgun.

However, it had to be done. (To Be Continued)
